

EventSphere

The Best Moments Belong to Everyone.
One platform to plan, experience, and relive every event.

It all started with a simple idea.

We began by talking to event hosts and attendees — asking one simple question. The answers revealed something far bigger than a photo-sharing app.

"How do you currently manage your events?"

One Event. Too Many Apps.

After interviewing event hosts and frequent attendees, one pattern became clear. People rely on multiple applications to manage a single event.

Before: Invitations, RSVP tracking, guest lists

During: Communication, live updates, coordination

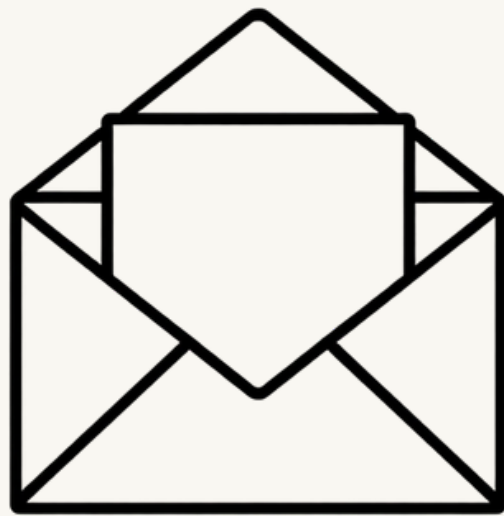

After: Photo sharing, memories, thank-you notes

Fragmentation is the core problem.

Today's event experience is fragmented.

Every platform solves one problem. No platform solves the entire event journey.
